

New features on Robinhood Legend

We’re excited to introduce the first set of monthly improvements to Robinhood Legend, with all-new features and tools to supercharge your analysis and trading. New additions include:

- Crypto, now on Legend: Analyze and trade crypto with powerful charting features and over 70 technical indicators—all in the same place as your equities and options.
- Index options and index charting: We’re offering the ability to trade options on indexes like the S&P 500 and Nasdaq 100, whether you’re using Robinhood Legend on your desktop or trading in the mobile app. You can also chart some of the most popular indexes.
- Access to more indicators: Now with over 70 technical indicators, you’ll have even more ways to conduct in-depth technical analysis, spot trends, and analyze the market.
- New chart settings: Customize with new chart settings like highlighting data by market session or adjusting zoom settings, so you can set preferences for how you want to view your charts—and quickly apply those settings to charts in your layout.

Options trading entails significant risk and is not appropriate for all customers. Customers must read and understand the Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options before engaging in any options trading strategies. Options transactions are often complex and may involve the potential of losing the entire investment in a relatively short period of time. Certain complex options strategies carry additional risk, including the potential for losses that may exceed the original investment amount. Unlike equity and ETF options, index options have some unique features that should be understood before investing in them. This includes, but is not limited to, settlement, exercise, expiration, tax, and cost characteristics. Indexes are unmanaged, do not incur management fees, and cannot be invested in directly.
